

LOCAL MISCELLANY.

A SPECULATOR IN SPURIOUS COIN.

THE ARREST OF JAMES BURNS, also known as O'Keefe, for having in his possession counterfeit trade dollars, was the first movement toward the capture of a gang of counterfeiters who have been at work in New-York for over a year. On October 18, Burns and a man named Currie were arrested for passing a counterfeit trade dollar, but before United States Commissioner Shields the complaint failed to identify the accused men, and they were discharged. Chief Drummond, of the Secret Service, had them watched, and the result of his observation has been not only the arrest of Currie and Burns, but also the capture of James Clark and of Matthew Rooney, owner of a basement liquor store at No. 330 West Forty-first-st., who, it is believed, has supplied most of the counterfeit silver dollars which have been issued in this city during the past year. Burns was arrested Friday night last at a desperate residence near the city hall, and Currie was taken from his home at No. 436 West Forty-fifth-st., by Chief Drummond and United States Deputy Marshal Bernard. Shields might have been expected to have come out on the day following the arrest of Currie, and he was quickly taken into custody. Several pieces of the spurious coin were found on them. Currie, Clark and Burns were taken to the city hall, and Currie was held for examination. Burns was held for $10,000 bail, and the others in $5,000 each.

THE COUNT'S PUPIL IN A NEW PART.

ATTENDING TO HORSEWHIP A HOTEL PROPRIETOR, Miss A. B. Fairbanks, "the pupil and god-daughter" of George the Count Jonnes, made an attempt yesterday at Taylor's Hotel, at the foot of Exchange-place, in Jersey City, to horsewhip Levan Fisk, the proprietor. For several months the Count and Miss Fairbanks have boarded at the hotel. They ran behind in the payment of their bills, and two months ago they were ordered to leave the house, as any ordinary persons would have been under the same circumstances. Their arrears then amounted to $140.85. On Sunday, it appears, the Count entered the hotel and demanded some papers which were in the charge of the Countess. Miss Fairbanks, who was with him, refused to allow the Count to touch the baggage, and the injured nobleman went away highly indignant. Yesterday, when the Countess actually refused to allow the Count to touch the baggage, and the injured nobleman went away highly indignant. AN ENGLISH PHYSICIAN MISSING.

LAST SEEN AT THE MAYOR'S OFFICE—FEARS OF FOUL PLAY. Brief excitement was occasioned yesterday by the report that the man found with a fractured skull at Essex and Hester-sts., on Saturday night, and now lying dead at the Chambers Street Hospital, was Dr. Lucius Demore, a wealthy English physician, who was recently lost sight of in this city. The rumor was set at rest, however, by the positive identification of the dead man by his brother-in-law, who said that he was Dr. Demore, who was recently lost sight of in this city. CRAZED BY HIS SON'S DEATH.

WANDERING AWAY BEFORE THE FUNERAL, AND NOT FOUND FOR TWO DAYS. An old gentleman and lady left this city on the Hudson River Road at noon yesterday, who will not soon forget their visit to New-York. They were Arthur Neeson, age seventy, and his wife, of Port Edward, N. Y., who arrived here last Wednesday to attend the funeral of their son, Arthur Neeson, of No. 6 Benson-st. The father had been extremely fond of his children, and Arthur being the last of his sons (one of whom had been killed in the rebellion), he was much attached to him. He believed that he had been to the funeral, and he became particularly depressed. Though the funeral was to occur two days later, he was so much affected that he did not appear at the funeral, and a careful search was made for him in the neighborhood, but he could not be found either that day or the following.

AN UNEXPLAINED REAPPEARANCE.

Thomas J. Whitney, a young broker, doing business in this city, and a son of Stephen B. Whitney, ex-Treasurer of the Richmond, Staten Island, and New-York Railroad, was reported to have been drowned about two years ago. He was reported to have been drowned about two years ago. DESPERATE FROM LACK OF WORK.

George Kaupp, boarding at No. 36 Montrose-ave., Brooklyn, a canvasser, shot himself in the head, near the right temple, on Sunday afternoon. The bullet entered the right eye, and lodged in it, it is supposed, in the brain. He was removed to St. Anthony's Hospital, where the result is as yet unknown. He left a letter, written in German, for the city authorities, asking the favor of having a death certificate forwarded to his family. In it he stated that he could get no work, and was about to be put into the almshouse, and that he was in body and soul.

NEW-YORK CITY.

A cat's head carved in black pearl is one of the prettiest of the new buttons. The handsome silk brocades used in millinery are called "Nubian" brocades. The Louis XV. jacket is one of the newest and at the same time one of the oldest jackets worn. The long coat-tails are seen even on evening dresses, where they appear very much out of place. A Boone is the sign over a liquor store in Sixth-ave. A boon that might well be dispensed with, undoubtedly.

THE HOUSE PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS.

THE HOUSE PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS also rendered their assistance, and every one attended to his duties without any undue excitement. The fire lasted a short time, owing to the efforts of the Fire Department, but nevertheless the building has been severely damaged. The patients who were in the building at the time of the fire were all safely removed, and the building is now being repaired. MAX MARETZKY'S PROSTRATION.

MAX MARETZKY'S PROSTRATION. SOME OF HIS FRIENDS ALLOWED TO SEE HIM OR TO KNOW WHERE HE IS. Max Marezky, concerning whose safety some alarm had been felt because of his disappearance in St. Louis Thursday, arrived in this city Sunday morning in a state of great physical and mental prostration. His physician allowed none of his friends to see him. The seclusion in which he is kept had not relaxed in rigor yesterday. Not only is his condition of mind, but his knowledge of his own condition is so much impaired that it is probable, however, that the "friend" he sought on his arrival in the city was his physician, Dr. Valentine, of No. 16 East Ninth-st., where he has since remained.

STRANGE STORY OF A PRISONER.

DECLARING THAT HE HAD TAKEN HIS STEP-SISTER FROM A CONVENT WHERE SHE WAS KEPT AGAINST HER MOTHER'S WISH. Chief of Police Murphy, of Jersey City, received a dispatch from the police of Gloucester City, N. J., yesterday, asking him to arrest a young man having with him a little girl, on the arrival of the Pennsylvania Railroad train from that city. The man and child were with the train, and the child was a girl of about five years of age. The man was a man of about thirty years of age, and was dressed in a suit of dark clothing. THE PETITION FOR LEGAL-TENDER REPEAL. The petition in favor of the joint resolution now before Congress "providing for the abolition and repeal of the compulsory legal-tender power now given by law to the Treasury, notes of the United States," received a large number of additional signatures yesterday. The list now includes hundreds of the most prominent merchants and bankers of this city. It is asserted in the petition that the legal-tender law, if it becomes a law, will encourage every legitimate enterprise, revive confidence in permanent investments, give extended employment to labor in all industrial pursuits, secure just rewards for honest toil, and discourage that spirit of uncertainty which breeds disastrous fluctuations in prices.
